PAC YEAR IN REVIEW 2020

DEAR PAC MEMBERS

On behalf of the National Shooting Sports Foundation® Political Action Committee (NSSF® PAC), I am pleased to present our 2020 Year in Review. This report reflects political activity, financial highlights and overall engagement throughout both the calendar year and election cycle.

We strive to provide a level of transparency to our members and we take pride in the critical work NSSF PAC does on behalf of the firearm and ammunition industry.

In the 2020 cycle, NSSF PAC received an unprecedented amount of support even in a presidential election year which is understandably the most active for all Political Action Committees.

To all members, your leadership and investment in NSSF PAC serves a critical role in making the voice of the industry heard in Washington, D.C.

In this report, I invite you to take a look at what NSSF has accomplished in the 2020 election cycle. As we face the challenges of a new administration, and a new Congress, there are many things to be optimistic about, as NSSF PAC looks to build on our track record of working to elect more pro-industry, pro-hunting and shooting sports allies to join us in Washington, D.C.

In recent years we have accelerated NSSF PAC's efforts to host hunts and recreational shooting events as fundraisers with members of Congress. These events combine the PAC's mission to support candidates for office who support our industry, while promoting our industry and the products we manufacture, distribute and sell, and while introducing hundreds of policymakers, staff, and government relations professionals to the shooting sports. Unfortunately, due to the COVID 19 restrictions, we were forced to cancel and postpone almost all of our scheduled events in 2020.

Instead, NSSF PAC was able to introduce many of our champions in Congress directly to you, our members and supporters, through a series of townhall events.

Steve Daines

Sen. Steve Daines (R-Mont.) spoke with NSSF about hunting and conservation efforts in the Senate and raising his children hunting big game in Montana.

Katie Pavlich

Townhall editor and Fox News Contributor Katie Pavlich joined NSSF for a preview of the 2020 election.

Shelley Moore Capito

NSSF's 2019 Legislator of the Year, Sen. Shelley Moore Capito (R-WV) accepts her award and discusses her bill the Target Practice and Marksmanship Training Support Act.

Steve Scalise

US House Republican Whip, Rep. Steve Scalise (R-Louisiana) talks about his history with PLCAA, and how surviving an attack by gunman has strengthened his belief in the Second Amendment.

Martha McSally

US Senator Martha McSally (R-Ariz.) checks in with NSSF to highlight the differences between her and her opponent on firearms issues.

Kevin McCarthy

US House Republican Leader, Rep. Kevin McCarthy (R-Calif.) outlines his conference's platform for pro industry, pro Second Amendment policies.

Thom Tillis

US Senator Thom Tillis (R-N.C.) updates NSSF PAC members on his race, the entire senate map, and discusses bank policies that discriminate against the firearm and ammunition industry.

Tom Reed and Elise Stefanik

NSSF PAC supporters got a twofer with New York Republican Representatives Elise Stefanik and Tom Reed. The pair from New York detailed the changes COVID has had on the country and trying to keep the economy moving – including keeping firearm and ammunition manufacturers open for business.

Ted Budd

No one understands the work NSSF does better than Congressman Ted Budd (R-N.C.) who in addition to being a pro firearm industry legislator, is a member of the industry, and an NSSF premium retail member. Congressman Budd spoke about operating a small business in the industry and implementing CDC recommendations in order to remain operational during the pandemic.

Dan Crenshaw and Texas Reloaded

NSSF's Larry Keane welcomed U.S. Rep Dan Crenshaw and the members of Texas Reloaded – all congressional candidates from Texas including Beth Van Duyne, Wesley Hunt, Genevieve Collins, and Tony Gonzales. The candidates gave NSSF a peek into their campaigns, and what it required to run a successful campaign for Congress.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

In order for corporate members of NSSF to receive information about the NSSF PAC, we are required by federal law to obtain prior approval authorization on an annual basis. Please take a moment to complete the prior approval form, including the list of your company's "executive and administrative personnel," which the law defines as salaried employees who have policymaking, managerial, professional, or supervisory responsibilities (but not foremen or line supervisors).

Providing prior approval simply permits NSSF to send PAC materials and announcements to company executives and administrative (supervisory) personnel you identify. It doesn't obligate them to make any contribution to the NSSF PAC. Any and all contributions would be purely on a voluntary basis. Your executive and administrative personnel are free not to make any contributions. You may also condition your consent any way you like.

Providing prior approval to the NSSF PAC doesn't limit or restrict your own company's PAC (if you have one) from soliciting contributions from your own employees. However, a corporation can only give prior approval to one trade association PAC each calendar year.
